Once he drove in this way from Kiel to Salzbrunn, three lads with him. Another time he even drove in this favourite vehicle of his to Paris, and to the South of France. It seems most unlikely to us now, that all these expeditions were taken for pleasure. The old gentleman, whose good humour was unchangeable, used to tell of his manifold experiences in a very amusing manner. On these travels he often visited my grandfather, his brother-in-law, and he used to have great fun with us children. Old Uncle Fritz has always remained in our remembrance, an object of admiration and respect. He even once contemplated visiting his son Helmuth at Constantinople, when the latter was in Turkey. But as he would have gone even there with his old white horse, he might have met with many a danger. However, he did go as far as Vienna and Presburg. On his return from Turkey, Captain von Moltke stopped first in Berlin, where he stayed at our home. It was just about Christmas time when he arrived, and I well remember the tall handsome man, with a Turkish fez on his head, in undress, entering the room where our Christmas tree was, laden with all the treasures of the East, so at least it appeared to us children. For my mother he had brought, amongst other things, a tube with Mismoms or Mourxn. 243 attar of roses which is still kept...
