

Letters from Canterbury, New Zealand

By Robert Bateman Paul

TheClassics.us. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 38 pages. Dimensions: 9.7in. x 7.4in. x 0.1in. This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1857 edition. Excerpt: . . . APPENDIX. A. Journey from Nelson to the Port Cooper Plains. BY E. J. LEE. Monday, Dec 22nd, 1851. Started from Bedboroughs run about half-past eight, and, after passing over Mouats flat, which is very stony, got safely to Tinlines run. Reached Todds warre about six oclock, and determined to camp for the night. I was agreeably surprised to find the difficulties of this part of my road so much less than I had been given to expect. A very tolerable bridle path may easily be made, but a dray road would scarcely, I think, be possible. Dec. 23rd. Started at five oclock, hoping to avoid the sandflies, which were in clouds and most voracious: they were up before me, however, and glad enough I was to start from their neighbourhood. The road, after rising the hills, was very rough, but gradually improved; and after...

READ ONLINE
[3.17 MB]

Reviews

A very great ebook with perfect and lucid answers. It can be packed with wisdom and knowledge I found out this book from my dad and i encouraged this publication to learn.

-- Elena McLaughlin

The very best publication i at any time read through. I actually have go through and i am confident that i am going to planning to read through once more once more down the road. I found out this ebook from my i and dad advised this publication to learn.

-- Emie Wuckert